ITALY.

THE KING'S ILLNESS—A FAVORABLE IMPROVEMENT.

NEW YORK, July 8.

A dispatch from Florence to the Herald announces the improvement in the health of King Victor Emanuel. He is certainly ill and confined to his bed. The Medical Journal of Florence says that on the 6th inst. the King was suffering from a severe attack of gout, and that a solitary suppository was administered to him. The next morning he was much better, and during the day was able to sit up for a few hours. On the 8th the King was still improving, and the Medical Journal of the 9th said that the fever was in danger at an early hour yesterday morning, but that the King's constitution was so strong that he soon rallied. The Florence correspondent of the Herald, writing on the 8th, says that the King was still improving, and that the fever was entirely gone. The Florence correspondent of the Times, writing on the 8th, says that the King was decidedly better, and that the fever was entirely gone.

Motion for a New Trial.

MORNING SESSION.

The trial of Daniel Walsh, indicted for the murder of Mary Walsh, was resumed yesterday, in the criminal court, before Judge Porter. The Public Journal in the case specially charged that "no one can get into court without a ticket, with a description, being handed, or pulled the keyhole of, so that the ushers, being deputized sheriffs, can tell who has the right." Has, and inferred a remark should be made.

THE JURY.

The fairness of the manner in which the jury assumed a complimentary court manner of tone. Twenty-three were challenged as to their competency as jurors. Of this number seven were excused for conscientious scruples in the matter of capital punishment, or the want of the requisite qualifications as to intelligence, and sixteen were excused for want of impartiality. Of the latter number, one was excused on the ground of prejudice, and the remainder on the question of fact of forming.

Prior to the swearing in of the jury, the private secretary of Judge Porter, Frank Hoyne, Esq., called the attention of the court to the fact that the jury-box was full, and suggested that the panel be filled. This was done, and the jury was then sworn in, as follows:

JURY PANELED.

The twenty-three challenged jurymen, and read to follows: Wm. Dewey, grocer, 37 Lake street; Christopher, coal and wood, 40 Lake street; Robert Patterson, coal and wood, 40 Lake street; Robert Patterson, coal and wood, 40 Lake street; Robert Patterson
